DECISION IN THE U. S. DISTRICT COURT BY JUDGE DEADY.

U. S. v. Sloan Mix—Indictment No. 295.

Congress has the power to regulate intercourse between Indian tribes and the members thereof and may therefore prohibit the traffic in spirituous liquors between such tribes or members, within or not without the limits of a State.

The word "person" in section 20 of the intercourse act of June 30, 1834, (4 Stat., 729,) as amended by the act of March 15, 1864, (13 Stat., 29) includes an Indian; and under such section an Indian may be punished for disposing of spirituous liquors to another Indian.

DEADY, J.—Thursday, March 27, 1873

This indictment was found March 7, 1873, and charges that the defendant, at Umatilla county on November 24, 1872, did dispose of spirituous liquor to an Indian, one Moo-los-lewick, who was then and there under the charge of an Indian Agent of the United States.

On the trial it appeared that the defendant was an Indian living on the Umatilla Reservation, at the time of the commission of the alleged crime.

The defendant being convicted, moved for a new trial upon the ground that the court erred in charging the jury that an Indian was a "person" within the meaning of that term as used in section 20 of the intercourse act of 1834 as amended by the act of March 15, 1861. (13 Stat., 29)

The section in question provides:—

"That if any person shall * * * dispose of any spirituous liquor * * * to any Indian under the charge of any superintendent or agent appointed by the United States, * * such person, on conviction thereof," shall be imprisoned, etc.

The word person in its ordinary sense includes an Indian, whether he be uncivilized, under the charge of an Indian agent, in the Indian country or otherwise. The burden then is upon the defendant to show, that although he is plainly within the letter of the statute, he is not within the true intent and meaning thereof.

The argument in his behalf is, that the principal power of Congress in the premises does not extend to the regulation or control of conduct or intercourse between Indians, within the limits of a State, and therefore the statute should be construed so as to exclude this case, which is one of intercourse between Indians only.

The constitution gives Congress power "to regulate commerce * * *with the Indian tribes," and this includes any member of such tribe within as well as without the limits of a state. U. S. v. Holliday, 3 Wal., 418.

In U. S. v. Tom (1 Or. 26), the defendant was an Indian and was indicted and convicted under this section for selling liquor to Indians. The case was argued and considered at length, but this precise question does not appear to have been raised. But the fact could not have escaped the attention of the counsel and the court, and the inference is that it was not deemed material.

Commerce, intercourse, with an Indian tribe, or the individual members thereof, may be carried on with or by means of Indians as well as white men. The power of Congress is not limited to the regulation of commerce between the Indian tribes and white people or any particular people or persons, but extends to commerce, with such tribes or any member thereof, however carried on.

Suppose it should be deemed necessary by Congress to regulate the intercourse between two distinct Indian tribes, as for instance, to prohibit the one from furnishing the other ammunition, would not this be a regulation of commerce with an Indian tribe? Because the regulation would necessarily affect both tribes and therefore the commerce, in this respect, between them, it would be none the less a regulation of commerce with either of them

In U. S. v. Holliday (supra), the court say, that "commerce with the Indian tribes, means commerce with the individuals, composing those tribes." This being so, it follows, that if Congress can regulate the commerce between different tribes, it may also between individual Indians. Other considerations, make it probable that this word person was used in this section with intent to include Indians. In other sections of the act (§§ 7 and 8, 4 Stat., 729) the intention not to include Indians in the word person is manifested as follows: "If any person other than an Indian shall," etc.

By section 3 of the act of March 27, 1851, (10 Stat. 270), it was enacted that nothing contained in this section 20, "which provides for the punishment of offences therein specified, shall be construed to extend to any Indian committing said offences in the Indian country."

What particular circumstance, if any, led to the enactment of this clause, does not appear, but it is probable that either the word "person" had been construed to include Indians, or in the nature of things would be, in the absence of any provision to the contrary.

But in the revision and re-enactment of the section in 1862 (12 Stat. 330) and 1864 (supra), its operation, so far as the disposition of liquor to Indians is concerned, was limited to Indians under charge of a superintendent or agent, whether within or without the Indian country, and the provision of the act of 1854, restraining the natural signification of the word "person" was not inserted: so that the section stands in this respect as it did prior to the passage of said act.

It being premised that Congress has the power to regulate the disposition of spirituous liquors to an Indian by whomsoever such disposition is made, in considering the question of whether Congress intended to include Indians in the word "person" as used in this section, weight ought to be given to the argument of convenience.

Upon all the Indian reservations in the country, Indians will be found, if permitted to do so with impunity, through whom white men will be able to introduce spiritous liquor among the Indians, with comparative security to themselves. The traffic can scarcely be prevented unless the Indians who are employed as go-betweens, are held to be within the purview of the law prohibiting it.

Motion denied.

WHERE THE SUN DOES NOT SET.—A scene witnessed by some travelers in the north of Norway, from a cliff 1,000 feet above the sea, is thus described:

The ocean stretched away in silent vastness at our feet; the sound of waves scarcely reached our airy lookout; away in the north the huge old sun swung low along the horizon, like the slow beat of the pendulum in the tall clock of our grandfather's parlor corner. We all stood silent, looking at our watches. When both hands came together at twelve, midnight, the full round orb hung triumphantly above the waves, a bridge of gold running due north, spanning the water between us and him. There he shone in silent majesty, which knew no setting. We involuntarily took off our hats; no word was said. Combine, if you can, the most brilliant sunrise and sunset you ever saw, and the beauties will pale before the gorgeous coloring which now lit up ocean, heaven and mountain. In half an hour the sun had swung up perceptibly on his beat, the colors changing to those of morning, a fresh breeze rippled over the floor, one songster after another piped up in the grove behind us—we had slid another day.

On the 15th of December there were on the English army rolls two Field Marshal and 752 general officers. One Field Marshal and two general officers entered the service during the last century, Field Marshal Sir Wm. Gomm in 1891; Lieut. Gen. Lewis Alexander in 1795, and Gen. Sir John Foster Fitzgerald in 1793, 70 years ago.

THE TERRITORIES.

The projected wharf to deep water, which the citizens of Olympia want, will be about 4,000 feet long, and will cost, according to the Tribune's estimate, $13,000, but, according to the Courier's, $20,000.

At the sale of cattle near Olympia, last week, the prices ranged quite low. Milch cows brought, on the average, some twenty-seven dollars; two year olds, seventeen dollars, and yearlings only seven dollars.

There seems to be another muddle about the site of the new Court House building at Walla Walla, but just the nature of it we cannot determine more than to learn that the situation is not a pleasant one to the editor of the Statesman.

The San Juan Lime Company has been reorganized at Port Townsend, and now consists of N. C. Bailey and James McCurdy. They have purchased the schooner Ontario and intend to use her in the lime trade between the Island of San Juan and ports on the Sound.

Judge Thomas Mercer has given a very desirable block of land about one and one-half miles from Seattle, overlooking Lake Union, for a site, and some three thousand dollars have been subscribed by citizens of Seattle, for the purpose of erecting buildings to be used as a seminary for young ladies.

The Walla Walla Statesman says: There has been a report current here during the week, that new gold diggings, paying from three to five dollars per day, have been discovered in the settlements somewhere in the Palouse country. If there is any foundation for the report, we will, no doubt, have full particulars in time for publication next week.

A few days since, Miss Flora Pearson, Assistant Keeper of the Admiralty Head Light on Whidby Island, received notice from the Light House Board at Washington that her services were no longer required. Miss Flora held the office six years, and her father, the principal keeper, is now the only employee allowed that light. Every other lighthouse on the coast has two or more employees.

The Intelligencer says: "C. M. Bradshaw, Esq., had chartered the steamer Rose, of Sitka, Capt. Allen Francis, to carry the mail between Port Townsend and Semiahmoo, the service to commence on the 1st of April next; but we learn that the Rose is aground somewhere in Bellingham Bay, with her shaft broken and a hole in her bottom. We presume, therefore, that another steamer will have to be got to carry the mails on that route."

The long vexed question as to the transportation of the mails from Olympia to Victoria and the intermediate ports, seems to have finally been definitely settled by the Postal authorities at Washington. Postmaster Burr has just received telegraphic information that a contract has been made with Messrs. Starr Bros., to carry the mails from Olympia to Seattle three times per week and two of the trips extending through to Victoria. The schedule time for leaving Olympia is to be 7 o'clock in the evening of Sundays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The Advocate learns from Dr. Casto, of the Skokomish Indian Agency, Washington Territory, that the affairs of that agency are in a very healthy and promising condition under the management of Bro. Edwin Eels. The Sabbath school is very largely attended, and many are inquiring, "what shall we do to be saved?" The Indian day school has 18 pupils. Dr. Casto is the physician, and also stated preacher. The Agency was originally placed under the controlling influence of the Methodist Church, but was subsequently changed to that of the Congregational.

Rev. Geo. Waters, Indian preacher at Fort Simcoe, writes to the Advocate as follows, under date of March 25th: "I am very well and healthy. I have a very nice time going round this large reservation. Every four weeks I go to Dattas, about thirty miles from here, preaching to my people. When there last, two weeks ago, fourteen persons joined the Church. Some children are dying here. On last Saturday evening, one little girl, about three years old, was playing near Simcoe creek. She fell down in the water and was drowned. Yesterday afternoon we buried her at Simcoe. Our meetings are going very well, Jesus working with us."

A report, signed by S. F. Coombs as Secretary, makes the following showing of affairs of the late Seattle firm of Stone & Burnett: "At meetings of the creditors on the 26th and 27th ult., an executive committee of five, representing interests as follows, was appointed to examine the schedule of liabilities and assets: S. A. Sanderson, of San Francisco, $44,003; W. M. Renton, $7,100; S. F. Coombs, $7,000; D. Horton, $2,880; D. Bagley, $600. The committee reported to the adjourned meeting that they find $82,397 liabilities, and $61,109 assets, and that at least 75 per cent. will be realized by the creditors, who have concluded to accept the adjustment and release C. H. Burnett from future liability.

Rev. Geo. Waters, an Indian preacher at Yakima, writes to the Advocate as follows: "I have received a letter from Lapwai, Idaho. It is from a school boy, a half-breed, whom I know very well. He is telling me in the letter about one Indian chief whose name is Captain John. I know Captain John. I saw him last summer in Lapwai. He was then wild, and was the chief drummer. Now I hear he has become a good man. The half breed school boy wrote in his letter, that Captain John scared the Indians at Ashotin, eight miles above Lewiston, by telling them that he had seen a devil come up out of the ground with fire, and talk to him. He came up twice. Then Captain John turned and became a good, religious man. Then because of what he had seen twenty-two others were scared and became religious too."

The Seattle Intelligencer has the following in reference to matters on the Tulalip Indian reservation: "At present, there are about 150 Indians at work, mostly engaged in logging, who are able to support their families with the proceeds of their labor. During the winter months, it requires great exertion on their part to carry on their pursuits profitably, but many of them are extremely industrious and frugal in their habits. A short time since, as an evidence of their industry, two of them, named Charley and Peter, purchased on credit four yoke of cattle, provisions, etc., and started a logging camp. They hired two white men and ten Indians to assist, and went to work with a will. After about two months' labor, they sold their boom of logs to the Puget Mill Company, and realized sufficient to pay $800 for their cattle, the wages of the hired men, provisions, etc., and to have left $100 for each of the partners. One of the white men, Tom Salby, who acted as teamster, received $100 a month for his labor, and was presented by them on leaving with a $20 coat. Two schools for boys and girls are on the reservation, and have about fifty pupils. Generally speaking, they are healthy—only two having died, one of consumption and the other of dropsy, in many months. The mill is in running order, and, in connection with the Agency, there are 10 logging camps—eleven at Tulalip, three at Fort Madison, and two at Swinomish. Too much praise cannot be awarded to Father Chirouse for his indomitable exertions in favor of those under his care."

As an Englishman and a German traveled together in a diligence, and both smoking, the German tenaciously but vainly sought to draw his fellow passenger into conversation. He would politely apologize for drawing his attention to the fact that the ashes of his cigar had fallen upon his waistcoat, and then that a spark was endangering his handkerchief. At length the Englishman exclaimed: "Why can't you let me alone? Your coat tail has been burning for the last ten minutes, but I didn't bother you about it."

EASTERN DATES TO APRIL 2.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Paymaster Canby is ordered for duty to the Department of the Columbia. Paymaster Brant, Master is relieved from duty to that Department. Lieut J H Weber is relieved from duty on the Board of Engineers for fortifications on the Pacific coast and ordered to San Diego. The following assignments were made of Resigned Marine officers Captain Davis, to the Lancaster, at Port Townsend; First Lieut. Harwood to the Wyoming, at San Francisco, Lieut Condon to the Lancaster, at Port Townsend.

Condition of James Brooks.

The Washington Express says the condition of Mr. Brooks is improving, and if no relapse occurs he hopes to be able to leave Washington within a week.

False Rumors.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The State Department positively denies the reiterated assertions of the resignation of Minister Low and the removal of DeLong. The latter informs the Government that Japan has suspended the prohibition against the exportation of saltpetre until thirty days notice of its renewal is given. Saltpetre may be shipped with an export duty of five per cent. ad valorem.

The Treasury Department denies the application to modify the manner of transporting goods in sealed cars. The recent case of bridge wire was exceptional, because it takes too long, and the duties were appraised before forwarding.

EASTERN STATES.

The Brooklyn Murder Mystery.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The News says new circumstances have been brought to light in the Goodrich murder case, which, if they prove true, will make this one of the most romantic and startling murders on record. It is certain that neither Roscoe nor Mrs. Hyers had anything to do with the crime. Goodrich, if he proven, was killed on the morning the body was discovered. Private parties are now working up the circumstances alluded to.

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—The young man who was arrested here on suspicion that he was Roscoe, the alleged murderer of Goodrich, has been released, a Brooklyn detective pronouncing him not the person.

Convicted of Murder.

In the case of Charles Nixon, charged with the murder of Proffer, at Chatham Square, the jury, after an absence of 2 hours and 45 minutes, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree. The prisoner bore up well. Addressing his counsel he said his only regret was for his wife and children, who would suffer a great deal more than he would.

State Election in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 2—The annual election for State officers and members of the Legislature took place to-day. Henry Howard, Republican, was elected Governor by 5,800 majority, with the remainder of the State ticket, except the Lieut. Governor, for which there was no choice. The Legislature is Republican.

A Puff for the Tarheads.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The pilots of New York epicures have been tickled by certain dainties from California, received by mail this week, some of which are rarities in this locality. An invoice of California asparagus has gone off like hot cakes at a dollar per pound. An instalment of California cauliflower is pronounced to be the finest ever seen here. It quickly sold at a

The School Election

It would be idle to attach too great importance to the School Election which is to be held next Monday The interests of the school are a good deal to public interest in the city We are informed that efforts are making to get up an ticket to elect a person as Director who will be a mere cipher in the hands of the Director who for some time past has assumed to be the Board of Director Such a person however honest is not fit for Director A man who will not stand up for the rights of the district and the high character of the schools whether the defect result from incapacity, want of time want of energy or want of integrity should not be chosen Let there be the greatest care in making the selection of Director and we may hope the greatest good to result from the choice

The Bulletin in Trying to Get Out Gets Deeper In

The Bulletin of yesterday quotes approvingly from an opposition paper the following concerning the political relations of Hon Geo. H. Cole, the appointee of Mr Holladay to Postmaster at Portland

If the Oregonian will refer to its files of May 1863 it will find a strong editorial endorsement of the political soundness of Mr Cole, who was then regarded by the Oregonian itself as good a Union man as we want

The phrase quoted from the Oregonian at the close of the above extract is inaccurate but it is not its inaccuracy that we propose to speak of now The only article that appeared in the Oregonian looking like an endorsement of Mr Cole appeared in May 30 1863 Mr Cole had been nominated the day before by the regular Secessionists Territorial Convention as Delegate to Congress against J O Raynor the regular nominee of the Union party At this time, the late Amory Holbrook was editing the Oregonian, and wrote the article in question, expressing surprise at the nomination of such a man by a Secesh Convention In the very next issue of the Oregonian, Monday, June 1, 1863, the principal editorial article in the Oregonian was an apology for the editor's having been misled into expressing confidence in Mr Cole's Union sentiments—saying it was plain upon what the editor had since learned that 'Union Democrats' were to be humbugged, if possible, into voting for Cole by the false rumor that had been put into circulation, to the effect that he was a Union man Accusing him of "stealing the livery of Heaven to serve the devil in, 'and warning lovers of the Union cause against him | Those were times when things were called by their right names, and the Oregonian did not think it wrong to speak of Mr Cole as "a sympathizer with Secession and a foe to the Government' While the Bulletin was about the matter, it would better have told the whole truth, instead of suppressing the most important part, for the purpose of proving by the Oregonian of 1863 a fact, which the then editor stated upon misinformation, and hastened to contradict and apologize for in the very next issue. Get up and come again, Mr Bulletin

But since the Bulletin is so extremely anxious to establish Mr Cole's Republicanism, that it will hunt up and publish such false hoods as the above to bolster its new political ally, would not the simplest way in the world be just to specify the services Mr Cole has rendered the party. If he has rendered such important services as that journal has declared him to have rendered, the specification of them would be an exceedingly easy thing to do, and would set the matter at rest and satisfy the public mind | What is the use of being so very gingerly on the subject? Out with it! Honest service to a great political party like the Republican is not a thing to be ashamed of

Mr Roosevelt, of New York retired from the Forty second Congress, with noteworthy ideas on its peculiar system of legislation These ideas are embodied in forcible language, and addressed to his constituents His principal lecture is on the interesting theme, 'Corruption in Congress' He is credited with the saying that of the eight hundred bills passed during the past year there were not more than one in twenty that members knew anything about He said that the only legitimate, well advised business of the last Congress was done in conference committees at the close of the session He condemned the rules of the House as incomplete and unjust, and thought the outlook from the present anything but encouraging Mr Roosevelt's constituents have tendered him their hearty thanks for his labors in the exposure of the well known 'District frauds

The telegraph informs us this morning with a smirk of complacency that the temple of some Japanese deity, whose name is well nigh sufficient to fracture one's maxillaries, is to be rebuilt under the care of a lynx eyed Superintendent of Foreign Architecture, "in accordance with the European basis of ecclesiastical fitness ' This assurance ought to be sufficient to dispel any suspicion that the work would be slighted by the Japanese Evidently, this is the only basis on which to build, owing, perhaps, to climatic influences and the peculiar atmospheric conditions at Yokohama No decent deity of polytheism could grumble at that dispatch

In his proclamation appointing Friday, April 11th a day of fasting and prayer, Governor Jewell makes delicate allusion to the degeneracy among public officers of these bad times, by inviting the people of the Commonwealth of Connecticut to supplicate the Almighty 'that we may imitate the virtues of our ancestors in the administration of public affairs, and that individual selfishness may not be permitted to undermine the foundations of the Republic to the end that the experiment of self government upon which we have entered may be crowned with success This homely phrase contains the pith of the whole matter

Rev O B Frothingham rises to explain why the six Bishops, and the Governors, Lieutenant Governors and other dignitaries, lay and clerical, who signed the call for the convention to put God into the Constitution didn't attend its sittings He thinks they "gave their names because they were afraid to refuse them and stayed away because they were ashamed to be seen If O B Frothingham lived in France he would be called out for this plain language

The Cincinnati Commercial credits Mr Orton, President of the Western Union Telegraph Company, with telling the editor of the London Times that in the United States, a thousand miles from the seaboard, he could find a newspaper that publishes in one week, more news than all the papers of London give in a month And now this Cincinnati editor wants to know if Orton referred to the Commercial!

The two railway organs of this city, the Bee and Herald are just now manifesting the greatest concern about the Oregonian's financial basis They join in asserting that the Oregonian is supported by the money of the National Bank and the Herald states that it has information that the Oregonian is running behind very considerably The Oregonian has a pretty firm foundation to stand on if it has the National Bank for a backer Its subscribers if that is the case certainly need have no fear of their paper stopping before the year is up which it would be ruinous to predicate of either the Herald or the Bee unless appearances are deceiving But the whole story is a falsehood, made of whole cloth The Oregonian has never received a cent of assistance from the National Bank beyond the usual rates of advertising which it has paid both the Oregonian and the Bulletin for the publication of its advertising card which is kept standing in both these papers And the Oregonian further congratulates itself and thanks its patrons that it has not had and does not need the assistance of the National Bank or any other outside resource and is not likely, if anything can be judged from appearances, to need such assistance The statements of these two subsidized journals are simply the emanations of envy The memorable words of the noble old Pennsylvanian are as applicable to this occasion as to that which first prompted them 'The utmost malice brooding over the utmost baseness and nothing but such a hated commixture must have hatched this calumny Howsoever hatched, we know of a certainty, and from other evidence than the thing itself affords that only baseness and malice have prompted the Herald Bulletin league to retail it out in the manner they have done

The Cincinnati Gazette asks us to believe that Charles A Ray, A O Behm, and John Graham members of the Supreme Court of Indiana, received the sums of $7 000 $4 000, and $4 000 respectively, for an opinion affirming the constitutionality of a law authorizing a county to levy taxes in aid of railroads

Something in the wind 'The Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the New York Assembly, will report, as instructed by a resolution of the House, a proposition to amend the Constitution so as to grant suffrage to women holding property to the amount of $250 After the report—what?

A Washington dispatch says that the official statement shows that the number of persons assessed in 1871 for income tax under the act of July 14, 1870, was 74,775 in 1872, 74,337

Rev Dr Newman lately appointed Inspector of Consulates, will receive a salary of $6 000, and all expenses paid a little more desirable than the Chaplaincy of the Senate

George Downing, the colored cook, and rival of Fred Douglass, is preparing a lecture on "The Pacification of the Races," which he proposes to deliver in the Southern States

Thousands of people are constantly inquiring, "Who is E P Smith, the new Indian Commissioner?" The Independent answers this question, and at the same time prods the New York Senators, who when Smith's name came up for confirmation, disclaimed any knowledge of him, although he was nominated from their State. Of this forgetfulness it says

"Perhaps it is not strange The fact is, he has given himself for years to the unfamiliar work of doing good. We do not remember ever to have heard his name mentioned as a candidate for any office in the gift of the people of the State, we do not even know what the he should be denounced as a 'Liberal,' or damned as a 'Custom House' Republican In the service of the Freedmen he has traveled all over the South for six consecutive years, and no other man in the country has during this time done more for the elevation of the negroes, or knows more of their needs When the Society to whose service he labored, was invited by the President to nominate a man as Indian Agent in Minnesota, he was selected as the man whom they could least spare, but on whom they could best depend to do the new work well He went, and has distinguished himself for his philanthropic labors, and especially for his success in exposing and punishing outrageous Indian frauds—frauds in which New Yorkers were implicated, of whom perhaps, our Senators have heard No wonder that the politicians know nothing of him!"

Just at this period of strikes and rumors of strikes among workingmen, the annexed item taken from a Boston despatch of March 28th, may be of some interest The ground taken by the Massachusetts Judge is one worthy of some attention

In the case of Timothy Hogan, a striking horse shoer, for threatening and assaulting Peter Pinkington, for going to work in the horseshoe company's shops Judge Parmenter to day decided that the offence comes within the statute compelling persons to do acts against their will by threats of punishment, for which the penalty is imprisonment in the State Prison not exceeding ten years, or by fine not exceeding $5 000, or by both In reviewing the matter the Judge said the acts alleged and proved in this case are peculiarly offensive to the free principles which prevail in this country and if such practices could enjoy impunity, they would tend to establish a tyranny of irresponsible persons over labor and mechanical business, which would be extremely injurious to both The Judge held Hogan in $1 500 bail on both complaints, for trial in the Superior Court

Upon the annexed letter, the Cincinnati Commercial bases its nomination of Minister Washburne for the next Presidency

PARIS, Feb 19 1873

MY DEAR MR RASTER—As the humblest citizen of our noble State permit me to thank you for this article (One entitled 'The New Slavery Question) You have hit the nail on the head, and you are right I have often said that having put down the monopoly of slavery the people now should address themselves to putting down railway, telegraph and express monopolies All that is wanted is to arouse public opinion, which Mr Webster once said, was more powerful than the light ning the earthquake and the whirlwind. Let the conspirators against the rights, the interests and the independence of the people tremble Truly yours

E B WASHBURNE

A dainty box of Ginger Snaps (with a capital G and S) good enough, indeed, to be spelled with capitals throughout—came to our office on the third Friday in Lent, 'with the compliments of a High Churchman We have read many arguments in favor of the High Church theories but none that appealed to us as strongly as these ca kes have done Our kind, but unknown friend should, by all means, stick to this line of discussion Creeds are doubtful, and rites are vain but when you come to ginger snaps like these, you know, why that's quite another thing If we were a High Churchman of like precious accomplishments, we should cast the apostolic succession to the winds and trust in our cookies One thing is certain, the hand that fabricated these delicious wafers and then bestowed them on a one accounted a heretic, can never have subscribed to the damnatory clauses of the Athanasian Creed

Mr Josiah Belden, a wealthy gentleman of San Francisco, now traveling in Europe, was in the catacombs of Rome not long since, and becoming temporarily separated from his guides, he was attacked by two men, who tried to garrote him The guides returned in time to prevent murder but the thieves emptied his pockets and stole his watch

A letter received from Rear Admiral Provost, by his son, Mr Charles Provost, of Victoria, announces the arrival of the Admiral at Washington City, whither he has been dispatched as a member of the Commission to settle the boundary line between the United State and this Province rendered necessary by the recent cession of San Juan Island It is highly probable that Admiral Provost, in the discharge of his important duty, will shortly visit Victoria

A writer in the Walla Walla Statesman says

The Canadian Pacific Railroad surveying party have got as far as Boat Encampment on the Columbia river, and their stores are scattered from that place to the Henry House, on the divide of the Athabaskin Pass It is acknowledged by all men that ever traveled and are thoroughly acquainted with the different passes through which they propose to run the railway, that the 'Howse Pass' is the best Thus far the Canadian Company has moved slowly, and unless they quicken their pace, the Northern Pacific will be finished and running before this one is surveyed'

The Indian trouble at Alberni originated in this wise A young Chief fell sick An old Chief and his son undertook to cure the sick man, and cured him so effectually that he will never again suffer pain or sorrow in this world The dead man's friends, believing that he had been foully dealt with, shot and killed the old chief and his son Now it so happened that the old Chief's widow belongs to a coast tribe of Indians, and her friends took up the quarrel and 36 of them started on the war path to destroy the slayers of the old Chief and his son On their way to wreak vengeance they were met by Mr Clark, who represents Sproat & Co 's interests at Alberni, and on his promising to represent matters to the Superintendent of Indian Affairs they consented to return home and await the course of events.

GENERAL NOTES

What comes after obese? Mice.

The first almanac was printed in 1441

Good news for husbands—Ladies wear their dresses longer than they used to do.

It took twenty five years of agitation to abolish the frank abuse It died in its 82d year.

Query Are the Michiganders any relation to the Portuguese, and if so, how much and what?

If a woman tells more than the truth in speaking of a rival's age she will probably make the thing even by under stating her own

One of the very youngest inhabitants of Lockport, Pa, sports twelve toes, ten fingers and three thumbs Rather too much temptation to become a pickpocket

A valetudinarian being told by his medical adviser that he must wear thicker boots, replies that when a fellow has to walk through so much water, pumps would be more appropriate

A writer in a New York journal seriously advocates a return, by ladies, to the ancient Greek sandal, as being far more comfortable, having a handsome appearance, and less likely to injure the foot

The Dominion House of Commons is composed at present of 200 members—of whom 88 are Representatives from Ontario 65 from Quebec, 21 from Nova Scotia, 16 from New Brunswick, 6 from British Columbia, and 4 from Manitoba

A correspondent of a Bombay contemporary gives it as his opinion that Nana Sahib died in Nepaul some six months ago About that time his widow, it is stated, distributed her hair among her various relatives—a certain sign that her infamous husband had departed this life

The Chinese Mandarins in Canton have adopted a new method of punishing criminals for slight offenses. They inflict a fine, which, if the prisoner is unable to pay, they cut off his pig tail, which, appendage has a market value of about $1 50 for the European hair market

They attempted to kill a book agent in Omaha last week He was robbed, thrown into the river, knocked off the cars, and pitched from a high bridge into the river again but in two hours after came round with a new illustrated edition of the Bible and tried to get the subscription of the leader of the attacking party

"I wonder what causes the eyes of young men of the present day to be so weak?' said a young town lady to a country aunt, who was reading the 'Pilgrim's Progress' in the smallest type without barneys 'My dear' was the response, "the eyes of young men are, in these days placed in the weakest part"

Somebody has proposed to "honor' the memory of Mr Greeley by establishing a chair of journalism at the Cornell school, to be be called by his name "Of all horned cattle," exclaimed Horace once, "deliver me from your fellows just escaped from college, who think that they have been educated for journalists'

A BLIND SOLDIER'S WIFE —A Washington correspondent of the Louisville Courier Journal writes as follows 'I have recently met a lovely Kentucky lady, Mrs General Paul She is from Newport Gen Paul had both his eyes shot out in battle He bears his affliction with the resignation of a Christian martyr At the Cooke ball the General was in full uniform and would playfully repeat the exclamations he heard about the beautiful flowers His beautiful wife is the staff upon which he leans and she so tenderly watches and guides his steps that she is eyes and everything to him In the carriage he made some gallant speech to her, and she said, O husband! I have changed so that I don't believe you would know me, it is so long since you have seen me Such rare devotion as theirs gives eyes to the soul, and the loss of the outward ones is not recognized'

LEGISLATIVE PASSES —When Commodore Vanderbilt took hold of the New York Central road there were, as reported at the time, 33 000 dead heads traveling over the road He at once put a stop to all of this, and went so far as to limit the passes of the members of the Legislature to the time at which the two bodies were in session The Erie corporation has now entered upon a policy fully as rigorous, and instead of traveling free the year round as heretofore legislators can only use their passes during the three months when they hold their session at Albany This curtailment has occasioned no little grambling at Albany, and Senator Lewis proposes to push a bill compelling all the railroads of the State to transport the members of the Legislature free —N Y Cor Chicago Journal

ONE THING OR THE OTHER —A Methodist minister, near 'Little Heaven' was invited to take tea by a number of that church The food consisted of cake made of Indian meal When the elder opened his slice he noticed some feathers in it 'It seems to me, sister, said he, "that your Johnny cake is feathering out' "There,' the hostess replied, "I told my husband the other day that he must either get a cover for the meal barrel or remove the hen roost'

A Trenton man's wife eloped from him fourteen years ago and he has just started out to find her He gave the matter mature consideration, and came to the conclusion he will have her again

Samuel Mansfield was fined $10 at Albany on Wednesday for selling liquor on Sunday and $100 for selling to a minor

From all accounts the rain and wind storm of last Wednesday extended up the valley some distance with the same violence felt here

The Statesman's correspondent writing from the seat of the Modoc war says 'Every decent citizen here stands by the Governor's letter, and is for whipping the Indians hanging the murderers and prosecuting his aiders and counsellors in the courts

A letter from Canyon City says "The winter is past and spring is making its appearance beautiful by the hills and valleys are in abundance of grass Stock looks well and beef cattle are plenty Two droves have already left for Portland market, and more will leave soon'

The trial of L Rooney in Albany began at one o'clock Thursday The indictment charges him with murder in the second degree for the killing of Pelton at Harrisburg last winter in a ball room. There are about sixty witnesses embraced in nearly all the young people of dancing proclivities in Harrisburg and the vicinity The trial will probably last three or four days

The Canyon City correspondent of the Advocate says "We anticipate but few times for this valley Government has ordered a five company post at Camp Harney, which will help in creating a market for the produce of this country A strong effort is also in progress for the establishment of a seminary of learning here for the instruction of the youth Ten thousand dollars has also been appropriated by the State for a wagon road from this place to Winnemucca, the work to commence immediately All these things make the future of this place more promising.'

Mr A S Felt, of Mason county, Iowa, writes as follows to a gentleman at Salem 'I have lived here in Northern Iowa, for the last eighteen years, and I am bound to go to a warmer climate and there are hundreds of farmers here in the same fix It has been cold enough the last winter to freeze the devil, had he been here We are compelled to feed our stock seven months out of the year Hundreds of people have been frozen to death the last winter" Although people complain of our rainy weather, where can we find a climate that is perfection? Compare our weather record with any other State and then judge about our enormous rainfall

In the Circuit Court now in session at Albany the following proceedings were had during the week In the case of the State of Oregon vs Levi Livingstone, indicted for counterfeiting, the indictment was quashed State of Oregon vs Charles Brown, larceny, continued M J Mudge vs William McAllister, judgment for plaintiff. Albany and Santiam Canal Company vs John Settle, suit for right of way settled Same vs G W Backus et al, same as last Samuel Levy et al vs James Riley, suit in equity, judgment for defendants. G. W Hall vs O O Barnes, action for damages, judgment for $1 This action was for $10,000 damages claimed to have been caused to plaintiff by defendant's kicking him in the stomach, whereby he was ruptured

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 4 1873

ASTORIA NOTES.—By the Dixie Thompson we learn the following items:

A terrific wind storm visited Astoria on Wednesday afternoon

The Dixie Thompson encountered great difficulty in reaching her moorings in time, owing to the gale Had she been half an hour later, it is very questionable whether she would have been able to reach her wharf

The barks Free Trade, Germania and schooners Parallel and Waverley, are still anchored below Astoria, unable as yet to cross the bar

The steamers California and Queen Telfair arrived at Astoria on Wednesday They were both lying alongside the Company's wharf when the steamer left there yesterday morning, not daring to venture over the bar

On Tuesday, the lighthouse tender, Shubrick, started out to sea, but encountering the storm was compelled to put back for shelter

The storm which has raged has afforded no opportunity for the vessels reported off to cross, and, consequently, the tug has not ventured out.

The tugs Astoria, Merrimac and Barnum, were all at Astoria yesterday.

On Wednesday evening the tug Merrimac arrived at Astoria from Cementville in the midst of the rain and wind storm All the room at the several wharves being occupied, the little craft was compelled to come to anchor in the stream, where she was severely buffeted by the boisterous waves

OVERBOARD.—A rather laughable incident occurred yesterday while the steamer Dixie Thompson was on the way from Astoria The boat had just touched at Westport for a moment to discharge and receive small quantities of freight, when the cook, a colored old fellow, started ashore to deliver a letter. As the steamer was to remain but a moment at that point, the old cook was in great haste lest he should be left When near the end of the gang plank, his foot slipped and into the cold water he plunged A number of deck hands were standing about, and the cast out a line to the man just as he rose to the surface with a loud "ugh," not dissimilar to the snort of a walrus The cook grasped the end of the line. He clutched it with such energy that the man on board narrowly escaped being drawn over the edge of the boat Instantly a much larger rope was thrown to the old fellow, and he was drawn up very much collapsed in figure, badly frightened, but had not lost a whit of his color.

THE NEW BASE BALL CLUB.—Pursuant to a call meeting of the members of the new club was held last evening at Buchtel & Stolte's Photographic Gallery, to complete the organization. The following officers were elected: President, Joseph Buchtel, Joseph R. Wiley, Vice President, W. S James, Secretary, Henry Thompson, Treasurer. The President appointed H. B. Thielsen, R. Bird and George W Pittock, Directors of the Club. The Club will be known as the "Portland Base Ball Club" The Constitution and By-Laws of the old Pioneer Club were unanimously adopted Thirty one persons have signed the roll of membership, and several names will be added to the list at the adjourned meeting on Monday evening next. Matters will be pushed forward toward the commencement of practice. The first nine will be selected at the next meeting.

CASE DETERMINED.—On complaint of a Mrs Ingate, Oaston D'Artois was arrested and arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of making a false affidavit in relation to some matter growing out of a civil suit. D'Artois, it appears, is an agent for the firm of Bragg & Frank, wholesale liquor merchants of San Francisco The civil suit, commenced in Justice Ryan's Court by D'Artois, is for the recovery of a sum of money due the firm represented by him, for liquor sold to Ingate over a year ago The time set for the hearing of the civil suit is on the 9th inst. On proper showing, the Court postponed the examination of the case until the 9th of the month, so that the civil suit pending might be disposed of, as such disposition would have an important bearing on the criminal case.

QUARTERLY REPORT.—From the Advocate we obtain the following report of the attendance at the Taylor-street M. E. Sunday-school for the quarter ending March 30, 1873. January—Aggregate attendance, 1483, average attendance including concert, 3702, not including concerts, 1173; average attendance of officers and teachers, 43; average attendance infant class, 57. February—Aggregate, 1573, average, including concert, 368, not including concert, 291, average officers and teachers, 41½, infant class, 57. March—Aggregate, 1608, average, including concert, 336, not including concert, 284; officers and teachers, 43; infant class, 53. Average attendance for the quarter, including concerts, 358, not including concerts, 294½, officers and teachers, 42½, infant class, 60½

ALL INVITED.—Inasmuch as the impression seems to exist, that none but maskers will be admitted at the masquerade ball to be given at the Armory Hall under the auspices of the Order of Jolly Good Fellows, on the evening of the 10th inst, we are requested to state such is not the case. A cordial invitation is extended to all respectable persons. Admission will be refused to no one of known respectability, whether disguised or not. We are informed that the Committee of Arrangements are sparing no pains to have the occasion prove all that could be desirable.

TURNED OVER.—Yesterday Mr L H Wakefield turned over all the books, papers and moneys connected with the Portland Postoffice, to his successor in office, Mr. Geo. E Cole, who has assumed the duties and responsibilities of the position. We learn that no immediate changes are held in contemplation by the new postmaster among the several clerks and assistants Mr. Lyman Chittenden is retained as Deputy Postmaster, and E. G Hatvey and Frank Arnold as assistants. Mr E. C. Larsen is also retained as clerk of the Money Order Department.

A REMARKABLE INVENTION.—One of the most important improvements ever perfected in musical instruments has lately been introduced by Geo. Woods & Co., in their improved Parlor Organs. It consists of a plane of exquisite quality of tone which will never require tuning. The instrument was lately introduced at a musical soiree in Baltimore, and received the cordial applause and in dissement of the many eminent professionals present —Boston Journal.

AN INFLECTION.—Speaking of "our Stephen" a San Francisco paper says. "Stephen Maybell, 'the laborer poet,' has come from Portland, Oregon, to San Francisco. We foresee that the laborer —poet is likely to prove an inflation on this community, and therefore, we think it will be as well to nearly Wm Maybell a little at once We don't think the Golden Era for encouraging William Maybell, it ought to be 'cruel only to be kind,' and put him short at once."

"CAN THESE THINGS BE."—Our young friend Dr. C. H Raftery, of East Portland, went to the Dalles a few days since to recover his health If rumors are correct, he will acquire more than that before he shall return He left here a single man but alas we shall see him no more thus. A Miss Smith, youngest daughter of Capt John Smith, of Warm Spring Reservation, has captur d our young Esculapius.

CHANGE OF PLACE.—Heretofore the High School Literary and Debating Society has held its weekly meetings at the Central School House The place of meeting has been changed to the County Judge's room in the Court House The regular meeting this evening will be held at that place. Business of importance will be up the table this evening, and a full attendance is desirable.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—At the annual meeting of the Y M C A. of Portland, on Monday evening of this week, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year President, E J Northrup Vice President, H H Northrup, Secretary, T H Hatch, Treasurer, E F Henry

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—The case of State vs Peter Boyer, charged with assault and battery, was tried yesterday before Justice Ryan The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs which were paid and he discharged

REFORM SCHOOL MEETING.—There will be a meeting of the incorporators of the Reform School on Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the office of Ladd & Tilton. A full attendance is desired.

PRESBYTERY.—The next Presbytery for this State and Washington Territory will be held at the Lapwai Mission, commencing on the 9th of May.

THE RECEPTION.—The reception tendered to the Rev Daniel Jones, of the A M E Church, who is about to take his departure for the East, destined for missionary labor in the South, was as fine an affair as any that has transpired in the city. Hon Mr Riley presided, and interesting and pointed speeches were made by Revs De Vore, Roberts, Dillon, Izer and Jones, and Messrs Caples, Northrup and Riley, after which Mr Carr, the gentleman who had so kindly conferred the reception, furnished to all present a bountiful repast Mr Hunter presided at the organ, and the mingling of the voices of a score of young ladies and gentlemen in singing made the time pass pleasantly At a late hour the company dispersed, each feeling that it was "good to be there"

EMIGRANTS.—Two families of emigrants from Linn county took passage on the Dalles boat this morning for some portion of Eastern Oregon By the same boat on Wednesday morning, a number of emigrants left for east of the mountains, who had just arrived on the last steamer from the States

FOR THE FISHERIES.—The Dixie Thompson will carry down to John West & Co's fishery this morning 1.0 boxes of tin, a quantity of pig lead and about 50 sacks of coal, all of which will be used in the manufacture of cans The hauling season is now fairly inaugurated

CATTLE—MULES.—A number of mules, horses and cattle were taken up this morning on the Dalles boat The same brought down last evening a number of beef cattle for the markets of this city

LOCAL BREVITIES.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Second Day—Forenoon Session

The Convention met at the appointed hour on Thursday morning at 9.30 o'clock.

The exercises opened by devotional meeting led by Elder Russ.

The committee on Enrollment reported. The report was adopted and the committee discharged On motion, C L Briggs was received as a member of the Convention from Dallas

Moved and carried that all efficient Sabbath School workers known as members of the Baptist Church, be received as members of the Convention and Rev. G C Chandler, of Forest Grove, and J J. Collard, of McMinnville, were enrolled as members

Moved and carried that the Sabbath Schools reported to this Convention as Union Schools, be so reported in the minutes with explanatory foot notes

The Convention proceeded to the election of Delegates to represent this body in the Union Sabbath School Convention of Oregon and Washington Territory, to be held at Salem The following persons were elected as such T P. Hackleman, Elder A. R. Medbury, A F Yeaton, Elder A Jones, Elder E Russ.

Mr Yeaton introduced to the Convention Rev G W Shaw, Pastor of the M. E Church at Albany

W. C. Johnson next read an essay before the Convention on the "Importance of Adult Elements in Sunday Schools"

It was moved and carried that the essay be sent to the daily press of this city and also the Evangel, with a request to publish the same

An essay on "Sunday School Concerts" was read by Mrs W J Daughery, which contained many important suggestions.

A lengthy and interesting discussion followed in which J A Wirth W C Johnson, Geo. P Newell, E Russ and G C Chandler participated

The Committee on Sabbath School Work, presented their report to the Convention,, which was as follows

"Your Committee on the Sunday School work of the Convention, would submit the following report.

WHEREAS, The Providence, which for the time being has cast our lot in Oregon and Washington Territory, is God's unmistakable call to us as Christians, and as Baptists, to help possess this "Land of Promise for our Lord Jesus", and

WHEREAS, The organization of Sunday Schools for the purpose of imparting instruction from God's Word, is direct fulfilment of the great Gospel commission to teach all nations "whatsoever Christ has commanded," therefore,

Resolved, That we have reached a point in our denominational developments and requirements in Oregon and Washington Territory, which renders it our imperative duty to undertake the support of a Baptist Sunday School Missionary, and the permanent organization of a Baptist Sunday School Convention

Resolved, That this body, before its final adjournment, appoint a committee of five, with full power to take all necessary measures to render permanent the existence, and enlarge the scope of this Convention which has had such an auspicious beginning, also that this Committee be authorized to obtain subscriptions from churches and individuals for the purpose of sustaining a Baptist Sunday School Missionary for the whole or a part of the year, beginning with June 1st, 1873; this missionary to labor where, in the judgment of the committee, his labors shall be most needed, and where the promise of earliest and largest and most permanent results are greatest.

On motion, the resolution declaring that the time has come when it is the imperative duty of the Baptist Church of Oregon and Washington Territory, to organize a permanent Sunday School Convention, was adopted

On motion, the Moderator was authorized to appoint a committee of five, to act in accordance with directions given in second resolution.

The Convention then adjourned to meet at 1 30 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention was called to order by W. C Johnson, Moderator pro tem, in consequence of the absence of Elder John Freeman.

Prayer was offered by Horace Root.

A discussion of the questions on "Teaching" and the "Qualification of Sunday School Teachers," followed at considerable length, in which Elders A R Medbury, S. Hill, J A Wirth, A Jones, and Sisters Laughery and Mitchell, participated.

The Moderator appointed the following committee to act in accordance with the directions in the second resolution of Sunday school work: Rev. A R Medbury, A. T. Yeaton, A. J. Hunsaker, F. O McCowal Rev. J. Freeman.

The Committee on Resolutions then submitted their report as follows, which was read and adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

WHEREAS, Believing that Jesus, who is absolutely and alone King in Zion, in giving the command, "Go teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit," gave it not simply to those who are the acknowledged public expounders of His Truth, but to His Church as such; and,

WHEREAS, The experience of the past demonstrates that the Sabbath school, properly conducted, is one of the most efficient agencies by which this work may be accomplished, therefore,

Resolved, That we hail with joy the organization of a Baptist Sunday School Convention for the State of Oregon and Washington Territory.

Resolved, That we recommend to all our churches within said boundaries increased labor in this direction, striving by all proper means to render them more attractive and more useful in the time to come than they have been in the days of the past, where they already exist, and to use every honorable effort within their power to establish them where they are not now to be found, striving ever to keep in view the great and primary object of their work, viz, the leading of perishing souls to the Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world

Resolved, That in the prosecution of our work we urge upon all who shall be engaged in Sabbath School labor the importance of holding up the Bible as being pre eminently above every other work, and all appeals, when final, must be settled by its authority.

Resolved, That in the selection of Sabbath School library books and papers, the greatest possible care should be taken that none be received but those that correspond in their every sentiment to the teachings of God's Holy Word.

Resolved, That to effect this object, we urge our churches and Sabbath Schools to purchase their Sabbath School books and papers of the Baptist Publication Society of Philadelphia.

Resolved, That to meet the demands of our work as Baptists upon this field, we absolutely need within this city a Public Depository well stored with the best works of our Publication Society, adapted as well to the minister's library and family circle as the Sabbath School

Resolved, That the thanks of this body are due to that society, for the noble work it has been doing for us thought its colporteurs both in the sale and donations of its works and especially for its late favor of 100 bibles and 600 testaments, to be distributed gratuitously to needy Sabbath Schools on this field during the present year

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention are due and are hereby tendered for the favors received from the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, Oregon and California Railroad, Northern Pacific Railroad Company and the steamer Cultus, as also, to the daily press of this city, the Oregonian and Bulletin, for the very full and accurate reports of our proceedings which have appeared in their columns.

Resolved, That the hearty thanks of this Convention are due to the Baptist Church of this city, for the hearty welcome with which it received us, the cheerful hospitality given us while we have been with them, and those friends and citizens who have from time to time met with us and who have so very respectfully listened to our deliberations during our session

All of which is respectfully submitted

S E SHEARNS,
Chairman Committee

The following resolutions were then presented by other members of the Convention and adopted

TEMPERANCE

Resolved That if our nation is imperilled by one danger greater than any other, it is drunkenness, hence, in all Sabbath School work it is of primal importance, as bearing upon the temporal and eternal welfare of all who are to be influenced, to emphasize not only righteousness but also temperance and the judgment to come.

THE M'MINNVILLE COLLEGE

WHEREAS, The Baptists of Oregon and Washington Territory have a school at McMinnville that promises great usefulness to the cause of truth; therefore be it

Resolved, That we urge upon all Baptists in our field, to aid it in its important work by furnishing means or students

Rev Dr Lindsley of the Presbyterian Church of Portland was introduced to the Convention by the Moderator

An address on the Course of Instruction for Sabbath Schools, was delivered by Rev A Jones of Salem.

The Committee on Printing Minutes of Conference and Statistics presented their report, which was read and adopted.

The Moderator appointed the following committee to superintend the printing of minutes, etc.: Elder J. A. Wirth, S. O. L. Potter, Messrs. Bride and Mupfrey.

Elder S. Hill offered the following resolution

Resolved, We recommend that our Churches and Sabbath Schools introduce, as far as practicable, the Bible Union's Revision of the Holy Scriptures.

The most animated and telling discussion of the session, if not of the whole Convention, arose upon the foregoing resolution, developing an unexpected familiarity on the part of the disputants with the latest discoveries in Biblical literature. The merits and demerits of King James' translation and the translation of the American Bible Union, were presented by the champions on either side, and the whole subject handled without gloves. The resolution failed by a small majority.

It was ordered that all the funds in the hands of the Convention raised on Wednesday evening, not necessary to meet incidental expenses, be handed over to the committee on Printing the Minutes and Statistics

The business session of the Convention was then adjourned sine die

But under the auspices of the Convention there was held in the evening, from 7 30 to 9 o'clock P. M., a meeting for prayer and social conference under the lead of Rev. Addison Jones, Pastor of the Baptist Church in Salem. The exercises were participated in by many visitors from other places.

The impression seemed to be among those best advised that the whole Convention was a successful and profitable one, and marked a great advance among the Baptists of the State toward perfect union in the Sunday school and other religious work

Wake Up the System.

When the physical energies droop and the mind becomes lethargic, it may be taken for granted that the digestion is impaired and the liver does not do its duty Upon the condition of the stomach and liver depend the condition of the blood, and upon the quality of that fluid depends the vigor of the body and the capacity for brain labor. It is therefore of the utmost importance to men engaged in active pursuits, who are subject to attacks of bodily weakness and mental stupor or indifference, to know from what source they can obtain immediate and permanent relief The tonic and anti bilious stimulating elements combined in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters peculiarly adapt that genial preparation to cases of this kind The rapidity with which it rouses the dormant powers of the muscular and nervous system, is marvelous. Acting first upon the digestive organs, and through them upon the fluids of the body, the nerves and the brain, it renovates, refreshes and regulates, not only the corporal powers, but the mind itself. As debility and its usual concomitant, mental torpor or depression, are often caused, and where they already exist are always aggravated by the damp and variable weather prevalent in the spring months, persons of feeble stamina and weak nerves should go through a course of this agreeable stimulant at this season, and, indeed, would derive great advantage from taking it at least once a day throughout the year

A Wonderful Story.

FOUR MEN LOST ABOUT FOUR DAYS ON A LAKE SUPERIOR ICE ISLAND FOR NEARLY A WEEK.

About the 4th of January last, four Scandinavian gold employers, named Thomas Watson, George Fisher, Edward Linder, and Henry Zack, started for a point on the Canadian shore, below Thunder Bay, to cross the lake to Isle Royal The ice was supposed to be three or four feet in the known, and they felt perfectly safe in undertaking the journey Unfortunately, they made little or no provision for the trip, each supposing that the other had a plentiful supply of bread and pork in the pack. They leisurely walked along on their course until nearly nightfall, when it was proposed they should sup. On opening their sacks and spreading their blankets on the ice, it was discovered that but three of them had any food whatever, and these three had but about four pounds of bread and a pound and a half of boiled beef between them. However, they divided up their stock and made a tolerable meal, expecting to reach their destination next morning What was left of the repast, consisting of a slice of meat, half an inch thick, and two small loaves, were gathered up, and the four walked on their journey, the night being clear and the weather calm. Toward morning, however, one of them, George Fisher, gave out, and they concluded to take a rest So they laid down, and, after conversing a while, fell asleep. When they awoke the sun was shining brightly, but there was considerable wind blowing and the air was piercingly cold. Fisher continuing to evince signs of illness, they partly resolved to retrace their steps, but on walking northward for about some twenty miles, to their utter astonishment and dismay, they discovered that the ice cake on which they were was surrounded by open water on all sides, in fact that they were on an island of ice, some ten miles in circumference, as near as they could judge Fears of their safety now took possession of them, and in their agony they cried aloud for relief. But no one heard their voices. Night was fast approaching, and with it came a swifter and colder wind than that which had been blowing all day.

Penned in, as it were, and beyond the possibility of human aid, their mental sufferings were terrible, for they beheld but added to these came the pinching anguish of hunger.

Fisher, who had once been "cast away" on the ocean, and who appeared to be suffering from a raging fever, was the only one at this stage of existence who appeared to realize the necessity of husbanding to the last what little they had in the way of eatables. He suggested that, as there were four of them in a boat scrape, it would be right and proper that the bread and meat should be divided into four equal parts, and that then each man should subdivide his allowance into six portions, which, if they used but one portion a day, would sustain life for nearly a week. His argument told on his companions in distress, and they acquiesced. The bread and meat were therefore cut up into four parts, and then each separated his share into mouthfuls. By mutual consent they resolved not to eat anything until next morning; and sorrowfully they spread their blankets on the cold ice and laid down. Worn out with cold, hunger and fatigue, they soon fell into a sound slumber, from which they were aroused about daylight by the thunderlike sound caused by the cracking of the ice.

About 8 o'clock in the morning, this being the third day they were out, they ate their "breakfast" in silence, the meal consisting of about a mouthful of bread and a piece of beef about the size of a ten cent piece and as thin as a wafer. Their feelings, as they gazed at each other, can better be imagined than described. They observed on close inspection, that the mass of ice on which they were was moved northwestwardly, and their hopes revived. It was likewise and they began to feel assured the open space between them and the main body of the ice would soon freeze over. But those hopes were of short duration, for, during the approach of night, the wind veered around and blew their island westward. They were strong hearted men, though, and Fisher, whose fever had left him, cheered them on and roused them up. Indeed, his courage was astonishing under the circumstances, and stood in bold contrast with the others who, without him, would have laid down and died from sheer helplessness.

That day and the two following were spent in vain lamentations at the hardness of their fate and wishes to be on shore, but no shore was in sight, and the sun went down and darkness came upon them.

On the morning of the sixth day, Fisher, who may be said to be only one among them who had ever before been in real danger, suddenly threw his cap into the air and astonished them by yelling "Land, ho!" as he pointed to the northward. They all looked with strained eyes, and, sure enough, there it was, about eight or ten miles off. They immediately started for it on the double-quick, and in three or four hours stopped ashore at a point about six miles below a small stream emptying into the lake some ten miles east of Pigeon River. Once safe on land, the saved men became cheerful, and made their way down the lake to a hut occupied by a half breed named Walla, who kindly furnished them with coffee and food. After remaining with him for over a week to regain their exhausted strength, the party made their way eastward.

AN INCIDENT AT THE THEATER.—Miss Neilison was called to the front during the performance recently at St. Louis, and a gentleman in the audience arose and addressed her from a stage box, expressing the gratification she had given during her engagement.

He then produced a basket of flowers, in which was set a bird-cage, festooned with bright wreaths. It was handed to her, and she had no sooner set it down at her feet than a bird inside of it, began to sing. The bird song was a success, and was loudly applauded by the excited audience, the applause also expressing approbation of the whole proceeding. While the bird continued to sing, as if playing a part set down for it, Miss Neilison began to play a part which was not set down for her. She said but few words, but half an hour's speech could not have expressed more:

"I am both surprised and delighted at this beautiful tribute from my friends, and feel that all join in the gift and the good wishes which accompany it. I assure them I shall bear it in the summer of my heart, even until the winter of my life."

The bird went off singing, and its new mistress looked very happy. The applause which greeted this little episode was unbounded. Miss Neilison soon came on again and read with surprising effect, "The Charge of the Light Brigade," and was called out at the conclusion of the whole performance.

THE WESTERN SNOW DRIFTS.—It is impossible to form an adequate idea of the snow drifts between St. Peter and New Ulm, says the Winona (Minn.) Republican of March 8th, without being on the ground and beholding the snowy sight with one's own eyes. The gentlemen who went out on the pay train, the other day, saw "Mike" Hanley's army of 100 shovelers at work on Young's Cut, where the snow was twenty-five to thirty feet deep, covering over the telegraph wire. The snow was shovelled from one terrace to another until the men on the fourth tier heaved it outside the cut. When it is stated that this cut is 1,200 feet long, the reader may faintly conceive of the nature of the obstacles that have beset railroads this winter. Mr Hanley expected to get through to New Ulm in eight days, at the rate his force was working While the Paymaster and his party were viewing the spectacle, the shovelers struck the stakes on the flat cars of a construction train that had been buried for several days out of sight in the drift. These things, however, will soon be of the past. Snow fences, trees, and the rapid settlement of the country, will break the force of the wind, in time, and prevent the snow from drifting.

DR Willard Parker, of New York, in a recent address took the radical ground that alcohol in all forms and combinations is a poison. He said the purer the spirit the more deadly its effect, and declared that if he were going to use it he should prefer the adulterated article. He declared that nothing is harmless in which there is alcohol.

The following, which contains some very apt suggestions in reference to the condition of the monetary affairs of our city and State and the only remedy which it is claimed will be effective in relieving the pressure, is furnished by a gentleman in this city, whose knowledge of the subject renders his observation worthy of attention

Very much is being said concerning the tightness of money in this city and through out the State, and frequently the question is asked When will money get easier The question can be answered readily by every one of common sense If we are permitted to step out a minute, and the present condition of monetary affairs, we will first call attention to the fact that for the past two or three years there have been expended throughout this State in way of construction of railroads, locks and canal, some one and a half to two million dollars annually, to say nothing of the lesser amounts that have been expended in way of improvements in the cities, towns and country All the money disbursed in the construction of railroads, locks and canal have been brought here from abroad,—in no way have the local funds been used in these two great works Hardly one dime entrusted in the construction of the above named works was there anything heard of hard times or tightness of money

Then again our wheat crop of '71 and wool clip of '72 all sold at fair quick and large prices amply paying the producer The completion of the locks and canal and the closing of building the railroad, stopped the circulation of whatever amount that was disbursed for the aid implishment of that work each and every month Instead of these disbursements, we have this fact, which speaks for itself, monetarily speaking.

The wheat crop has not been of so extensive and ready sale as in the year above mentioned not so large a price obtained per bushel and a large proportion of last year's crop in the possession hands All the earnings of the railroad companies are sent out of the country to pay the interest on the various bonds, amounting to some $150,000 per annum With this drain, and for good reason period, all has to come from the products of our State. This latter item is largely in excess of the former—probably exceeding the former some four or six times With such a money drift from our State, with its present producing population, can we reasonably except no easy money market here very soon? Certainly not—until something in way of construction of new railroads or extending present lines of road partially built is done shall we be done our only remedy is to practice economy more attentive, practice more industry, more economy, and purchase a less amount of imported goods

This every man, woman and child, should bear in mind and govern themselves accordingly • If every person lived within his income, and something for a rainy day, we would soon hear less of a light money market Money in New York has not been for several years previous as tight as it has been for the past several months, when it commands the legal rate of interest of 7 percent, and a commission of ¼ to 1 01 per cent. per day thereafter to the regular legal rate With the high premium which gold commands in New York, the demand for gold in San Francisco has been large for speculative purposes, which has covered near half a million dollars per week.

This has caused a stringency in that market. The rate of interest has advanced for commercial purposes from 1 per cent. to 1½@1¾ per cent. per month, on bond and mortgage to 1½ per cent per annum We must add, to form and retrench our expenditures

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 27th has the following:

The Vienna Exposition will increase the passenger drift from this country to Europe beyond precedent. A trip to Europe, for people living on the Atlantic side of the country, is made almost as a matter of course by those who have means and leisure for travel. But this year some thousands more than usual will be drawn to Europe by the Vienna Exposition, and became more than even a foreign tour is considered fashionable to make.

Probably not less than seventy-five thousand Americans will visit Europe within the next few months Now these visitors will take with them an average of about $1,000 for each person, the aggregate amounting to $75,000,000 in gold. If the average expenses did not exceed $700, upwards of $52,500,000 would then be required Looking at the gold questions, we find that they are above 110 with an upward tendency Fifty millions of gold are to be taken out of the country as the spending money of the army of summer tourists Not a dollar in greenbacks will go Our "national currency" is not recognized abroad; it wouldn't pay for a dinner in any first class European hotel Fifty millions of gold will be taken out and scattered over European soil millions of the treasure already been placed in Europe, and the remainder will get there shortly. Gold is still at $1.10@5, because there is an increased demand for it for foreign use

Then we have the fact that spring importations have opened stronger than ever; the Government will not take its own paper for duties or imports, but compels every importer to go into the market and buy gold on the best terms he can make When gold goes up, the drift is directly from this city to New York. Is it any wonder that there is not enough money on this side of the continent for the ordinary wants of business?

Home Produce Market.

During the week now specially under review, we have been visited by some of the severest storms of the season, and, as a consequence, business has been somewhat impeded and hardly up to the average for this season of the year.

WHEAT—During the past few days, advices from Liverpool have not been of such a nature as to produce any feeling whatever in our local market. Nor does the movement in from the country indicate any tendency to activity there. Prices here are furnished nominally by exporters at $1 55 ₩ cental, which is perhaps the maximum at which much could be placed now, though we have heard of small lots of choice for mill ing changing hands at an advance of 5@5½ c ental. The demand here is stack, but the prices obtained are unremunerative to farmers as heretofore, owing to the reduction of inland freights brought about by the opposition on the river.

FLOUR—Shortly after our last weekly issue, a reduction was made in some brands in car market, and has since been maintained. We now quote standard brands of extra at $5 25 per bbl, and common and outside brands $4 25@5 ₰. Superfine rules steady at $4 The local demand is fair, but shipments are limited. The steamships to Victoria and Sound ports took out 2,475 bbls. The bark Webfoot is now on the north receiving a cargo from the Salem Flour Mills

OATS—The supply has fallen off, and with diminished receipts price have advanced to 03@07 per bushel for best; quality including sacks The surplus yet in the interior is small, and dealers when hold stocks here are firm. Inferior and black are quotable at 35@60 cents per bushel

BARLEY—The foreign demand is better, and for the limited quantities offering the bids are firm at $1 40@1 60 per hundred pounds, as to variety, only the best commanding the latter The local demand is fair.

FEED—Notwithstanding the advance of spring, prices are well maintained, owing principally to the diminished supply and backward season We quote bran in sacks $18@20 per ton; middlings, shorts, etc., $25@27.

GRAHAM FLOUR—The market is supplied moderately well at $2 50@2 75 per bale.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—We note but little demand. Prices are unchanged.

OATMEAL—Some small shipments to San Francisco have been made and the quality of our product has been favorably noticed in the Bay City. The home demand is fair at 5½@6¼ cents per pound

HOMINY—The supply continues limited and prices are firm at $5 60 per bbl Do.

POTATOES—Notwithstanding the heavy weather the receipts of the past week have been quite large and in consequence of a dull market abroad quotations have generally ruled low Dealers find ready sale only for choice varieties and are willing to advance on such from 5@10 cents, while inferior lots sell at 35@40 cents per bushel.

ONIONS—The best lots bring three cents per pound while common are quotable at 2½@2¾ cents. The colorado have been small.

APPLES—The supplies is short and a brisk demand now lots especially for choice varieties for shipping purposes. Some lots neatly packed have been sold at $1 25 per box. From wagons the ruling rates are 1½@2 cents per pound.

BUTTER—The supply of good butter has perceptibly increased, while some of the stuff which hardly deserved the name has been got out of the market Quite a large quantity of California roll has been disposed of in this city the past month at a figure much beyond that commanded by common lots from the interior, and but little below the price of our best Oregon-made. Quotations for ordinary lots are unchanged, while choice has declined from 3 to 5c ₩ lb.

CHEESE—The supply of Oregon make is so I keptup and quotations are given at 12c ₩ lb.

POULTRY—The receipts during the last three or four days have been large, and prices have receded to $3 50@4 ₰ dozen for chickens, the last for choice and the first for mixed lots. Some advance on fat hens might be obtained.

EGGS—The supply is quite liberal and a lessened demand has reduced the price to 10c ₰ dozen. The market is dull even at this low figure.

BACON—Still we note very large lots coming to hand, which, with that in store, causes dealers to feel indifferent about making large purchases of unknown brands. Ordinary lots are no higher, and we quote bakers' ₰ lb for shoulders, 11@12c for side and 13@14c for beam. The San Francisco market, to judge from mail advices, is dull for all kinds of Oregon cured

LARD—Quotations remain firm at 10@11c ₰ lb in kegs and 12@13c in tins The quality of the supply is improved, and Oregon lard ought to have a better demand. At present the trade is dull.

FRESH MEATS—We quote dressed hogs at 6½@7½c ₰ lb, beef on foot 6@7c, mutton sheep $4@4 ₰ head. Dull.

TALLOW—Quotations are still furnished at 7@8c ₰ lb. Supply liberal.

HIDES—The trade is active, and dealers are readily paying 6½@7c ₰ lb for green, 7½@8c ₰ lb for salted, and 10@11c for dry.

WOOL—Any quotations at present would be guess work, as there is not enough offering to fix a price The general impression is that prices for the first installments of the spring clip will rule low, but of this it is impossible to be sure
